ABOUT ME

I am Rayan Ebadi, born in 2000, captivated from my teenage years by the world of zeros and ones, launching my first website at 14. My journey has intertwined with graphic design, crafting digital interfaces, developing Telegram bots, managing large-scale projects, real estate ventures in Dubai, and business consulting.

Though I briefly explored financial trading, my heart has always leaned toward artificial intelligence, innovation, and creating meaningful value. Passionate about personal development, motivational podcasts, and business management, I have authored and translated several books. I also embrace creativity in leisure, having run a film and series review website to share my perspective on art.

I am an athlete and firmly believe in fostering positive mindsets and inspiring others. Every project I undertake blends creativity, technology, business, and positive energy. I pursue big challenges, innovative experiences, and meaningful impact, believing that everything we build should be inspiring, practical, and a glimpse into the future.

With gratitude and respect
Rayan Ebadi
